

6.2 CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE

For your protection, the information about yourself that you give us when you request Catholic Charities services is confidential. We ask you to sign a confidentiality document when you join one of our services.

At some date during your services, we may ask for information about your health. When you give us the health information, we will give you our Privacy Notice to read and sign. That notice describes how Catholic Charities will use the health information for your services, payment for the services as required and our general healthcare operations on your behalf.

If you want to review a copy of the Privacy Notice, please ask a Catholic Charities employee for a copy and an explanation of the document.

Please sign the following statement:

I have received a copy of this confidentiality notice. I have not provided any health information to Catholic Charities on this date.
